Course Description

Participants will learn the principles of writing a scientific manuscript, draft the different sections of a manuscript, how to submit the paper to a journal and handle peer review.

In every session, there will be a lecture followed by a demonstration (if required). This will be followed by interaction and discussion among participants and facilitators.

All the sessions over three days are mandatory. At the end of each session, there will be a quiz to assess the comprehension and understanding achieved by the participant.

Application process

Interested participants (Indian nationals) can apply using this online form:

Rationale

In line with the strategic vision of The Union South-East Asia Office, this is an initiative to build capacity of medical college faculty and public health professionals working in India.

Many researchers do a lot of work in starting a study, writing a protocol, collecting and analyzing data but get blocked when it comes to writing up the paper and submitting it for publication in a peer-reviewed journal. These three-days should remove some of the myths surrounding scientific writing and help you develop confidence. Writing is like any skill; it can be learned and it is much more satisfying and productive when you know how.

The course is best suited for public health professionals and young medical researchers working in either medical colleges or public health programmes.

Participation is restricted to 30 participants. Selection of the course will be confirmed only on receipt of the registration payment. Webinar link will be shared upon confirmation of registration.

Memorandum of Understanding Between

Yenepoya University, Mangaluru, India
and

International Union Against Tuberculosis and Lung Disease (The Union), Paris, France

Yenepoya University, University road, Deralakatte, Mangaluru - 575018, represented by its Registrar, Dr G. Shreekumar Menon herein after called as first party.

AND

International Union Against Tuberculosis and Lung Disease (The Union), Paris, France, 68 Boulevard Saint Michel, 75006 Paris, represented by its Executive Director, José Luis Castro herein after called as second party.

Whereas, the first party is a deemed university accredited "A grade" by National Accreditation Assessment Council (NAAC) with Yenepoya Medical College being one of the constituent colleges, hereinafter called YMC, engaged in the treatment of patients, teaching, research and service.

Department of Community Medicine under YMC is an undergraduate and postgraduate training department involved in community oriented training, research and service to the community. The department is also providing promotive, preventive and curative health services to the community through different tiers of health care delivery systems. It caters to the 1 lakh population. Priority research areas include operational research in tuberculosis, non-communicable diseases, and maternal child health including adolescent health.

Department of Community Medicine will be the coordinating department from the first party.

Whereas, the second party is a non-governmental scientific organisation promoting national autonomy within the framework of the priorities of each country by developing, implementing and assessing tuberculosis, lung health and non-communicable disease programmes as well as other public health issues. The Union headquarters is in Paris, France, and has branch offices in India covering the South-East Asia region, China, Myanmar, DR Congo, Uganda, Zimbabwe, Peru, and Mexico.

Under WHO's Stop TB Strategy, which drew heavily on The Union model (DOTS), an estimated 43 million lives were saved between 2000 and 2014. In 2015, the next phase – the End TB Strategy – was launched.

The Union adopts a vision "Health solutions for the poor" and focuses on TB, TB-HIV, lung health, non-communicable diseases, tobacco control and operational research.

The Centre for Operational Research (COR) will be the coordinating unit from the second party.

In order to facilitate capacity building of public health professionals by conducting joint academic and scientific activities, International Union Against Tuberculosis and Lung Disease, Paris, France & Yenepoya University, Mangaluru, India agree to enter into a memorandum of understanding (MoU) on the following articles within the extent of each country's regulations & facilities.

1. Organisation of joint academic and scientific activities such as short course, workshop or any courses related to operational research.
2. To promote the development of training modules and course materials by involving faculty/researchers from the two institutions.
3. Explore possibility of research collaboration between the two institutions.
4. Explore possibility of exchange of faculty and researchers to participate in training workshops and other academic programmes within the extent of each institution's regulations and facilities.
5. Signature of this protocol shall not cause any obligation for either party or enter into any specific agreement relating to cooperation between two institutions.

6. This protocol shall be in effect for one year following the date of signature. This protocol may be complemented or amended by the written and common consent of authorized representatives of both institutions and additional protocols to this protocol. The addenda or amendments will not be valid unless it is written and signed. The protocol may be extended as required by written and signed consent of the parties.
7. Each organisation shall reserve the right to terminate the protocol by issuing a written notice one month in advance to the other party. In that case, on-going projects shall be completed.

This is a legally non-binding agreement which outlines an intention to promote academic and research collaboration between the two institutions.

This protocol shall become effective after signing by the authorized representatives of both the institutions.
