Preamble

(As per UGC)

As per the Quality Mandate of University Grant Commission (UGC), UGC needs to take initiatives for providing Life Skills (including soft skills) to students enrolled in Institutions of Higher Education especially at under-graduate level. Life skills, though fewer tangible traits, play an important role in increasing the employability as well as self-esteem of the students. These may include communication skills, interpersonal skills, time management, team work, flexibility, problem solving, professional skills, decision making skills, leadership abilities and universal values among others.

Life skills are defined as the behaviours used appropriately and responsibly in the management of personal and professional affairs. They are also set of human skills acquired via learning or direct experience that are used to handle problems and questions commonly encountered in day to-day personal and professional life. It is always said that life skills are the core skills each individual must acquire and inculcate internally as well as externally for the betterment of self and others.

Life skills, thus, are the means to empower young minds in demanding situations in personal, professional and social life. Adoption of life skills is the key to excellence.

Life skills programme aims at inculcating in the students both personal and professional skills in the areas of understanding of self and others, interpersonal skills, high performance teams, leadership potential, communication & presentation skills, techniques of problem solving, decision making, fostering creativity and innovation for personal and professional excellence, stress management, time management and conflict management and inculcation of human values. The course requires active participation of the students and the faculty as Facilitator, Mentor and Trainer. For this purpose, various activities have been incorporated into the courses - oral presentations, impromptu speaking, quiz, debates, case studies, creative thinking, team building exercises, field visits, projects, psychometric analysis etc. It is believed that for a professional to succeed in today's complex environment, one should demonstrate mastery in all the relevant areas mentioned in the course structure of Life Skills Module.

Course 1: Communication Skills

Context and Justification Communication plays an important role in shaping an individual's life, personal as well as professional. Also, it is the backbone of any organisation/institution. Success in life to a considerable extent depends on effective communication skills. In today's world of computers and digital media, a strong communication skill base is essential for learners and for smooth functioning of an organisation.

Objectives:

This course has been developed with the following objectives:

1. Identify common communication problems that may be holding learners back
2. Identify what their non-verbal messages are communicating to others
3. Understand role of communication in teaching-learning process
4. Learning to communicate through the digital media
5. Understand the importance of empathetic listening
6. Explore communication beyond language.

Expected Outcome:

By the end of this program participants should have a clear understanding of what good communication skills are and what they can do to improve their abilities.

Course 2: Professional Skills

Context with Justification:

One of the significant outcomes of Higher Education is to prepare an individual for entering the job/employment market. Besides knowledge and skills required for a particular job/occupation, professional skills are also required for an individual to be gainfully employed for a successful and satisfied life. Professional skills are part of life skills. An individual should be able to demonstrate professional skills involving the use of intuitive, logical and critical thinking, communication and interpersonal skills, not limited to cognitive/creative skills. These skills, behaviour and quality of output enhance employability. The career skills empower an individual with ability in preparing an appropriate resume, addressing the necessary gaps for facing interviews and actively and effectively participating in group discussion thereof, etc. It is also of significant importance that students /individuals possess the know- how to explore career opportunities for themselves, considering their innate strengths and weaknesses. It is important that the students/individuals are well prepared to take on new challenges and opportunities. With the increasing use of technology in the way we live, learn and work, it is critical for students/individuals to be able to utilise basic computing concepts and also have and espouse excellent Team Skills. Collaborating and working together can assist in resolving complex problems, which allow/offer individuals an opportunity to articulate new ideas and perspectives. It further allows learner / individuals design, develop, problem solve and to adapt to situations based on their experience and skills.

Course 3: Leadership and Management Skills

Context with Justification:

Leaders are foundations of the society, who face and win against adversities and odds of life. Through their words and deeds, they show path to others and transform into inspirational role models, affecting social life vividly. In the current times of cut-throat competitions, disbelief in values, techno-centric complex lifestyles, there is a dire need to emphasise the 'human' agency in community living. This can be done by cultivating and nurturing the innate leadership skills of the youth so that they may transform these challenges into opportunities and become torch bearers of the future by developing creative solutions.

Objectives:

The Module is designed to:

- a. Help students to develop essential skills to influence and motivate others
- b. Inculcate emotional and social intelligence and integrative thinking for effective leadership Create and maintain an effective and motivated team to work for the society
- c. Nurture a creative and entrepreneurial mindset

Course 4: Universal Human Values

Context with Justification:

Human civilisation is known for the values that it cherishes and practices. Across various times and places, sages, saints and seers, drawing on their experience, developed practices that placed central importance on values, though the names used by them differed, as their languages varied but the spirit was same. Universal human values are values that human beings cherish and hold in common consciously and otherwise in most of the places and times and practice them. Renunciation is the foundational value.

Renunciation or greed lessness has two preconditions: love for all living beings and absence of selfishness. Renunciation is not self-directed but other-directed and is for life in all forms and shapes, for welfare of all. Renunciation begins when selfishness ends. Renunciation to run away from the problems of life is cowardice. Renunciation without action means parasitic life. Also, service can be practised only when renunciation with action begins. Egoless service is inconceivable without renunciation; and true service is possible only through love and compassion. Life and death are eternal truths, so is the truth as fact and truth as value. Truth exists between the two ends of life and death and is to be pursued.

Truth, Love, Peace, Non-Violence and Righteous Conduct are the Universal Human Values. Renunciation (sacrifice), Compassion and Service are also commonly acceptable human values, which at the operation level have been named differently as sincerity, honesty, righteousness, humility, gratitude, aspiration, prosperity, non-violence, trust, faith, forgiveness, mercy, peace and so on. These are needed for well-being of an individual, society and humanity and ultimately Peace in the world.

This course aims at making learners conscious about universal human values in an integral manner, without ignoring other aspects that are needed for learner's personality development.

Objectives: The present course deals with meaning, purpose, and relevance of universal human values and how to inculcate and practice them consciously to be a good human being and realise one's potentials.

Pedagogy:

Learning is a challenging, engaging, and enjoyable activity. Learners should be encouraged to engage in a rigorous process of learning and self-discovery by adopting a highly focused approach to education versus rote learning. In teaching and learning pedagogy of universal human values, there should be a shift from domain or conclusions-based approach to the experiential or process/processes-based approach.

The faculty should promote learning of values on a proportionate scale of 20:30:50 principle, where lectures constitute 20 percent of the delivery (Hear); visuals 30 percent of the learning methods (See); and experience 50 percent (Do). This ratio is subject to change as per the needs.

In order to achieve its objective of focused-based learning and holistic development the faculty/ facilitators should use a variety of knowledge delivery methods: interactive lecture so that students work with their teachers to get new insights in the subject area, and are able and build their own bridges to higher learning, Discussions of values and their practices on real life issues in groups, Simulations to provide students opportunities to understand real life situations and scenarios, and solve challenges in a controlled environment or make use of them in simulating cultural experiences by locating/transposing them in new (local, regional, national and international) situations, Case Studies, Role Play, Team Work, and Study Visits to provide an opportunity to students to see the individuals or organisations that practice these values and contribute to their own self and the humanity.

Faculty / facilitators should make judicious use of pedagogy and andragogy in conduct of sessions

Assessment: Self-assessment, feedback, practical case assignments, panel discussion, individual and group activities, question and answer sessions, invited motivational talks, and field visits to the places / individuals and institutions that practice one or a set of values.

Note: Each student will keep record of his/her daily learning after each module/session in the Reflection Journal. The faculty will maintain record of the Reflection Journal after a face to face to workshop.
